<The concept of "Universal Tourism">

A tour which everyone can enjoy

<Background>

- We have learned about Universal Tourism in the class
- We experienced some existing courses by using a wheelchair in summer vacation

<Goal>

Design courses which everyone can enjoy themselves to make a society that is livable for everyone

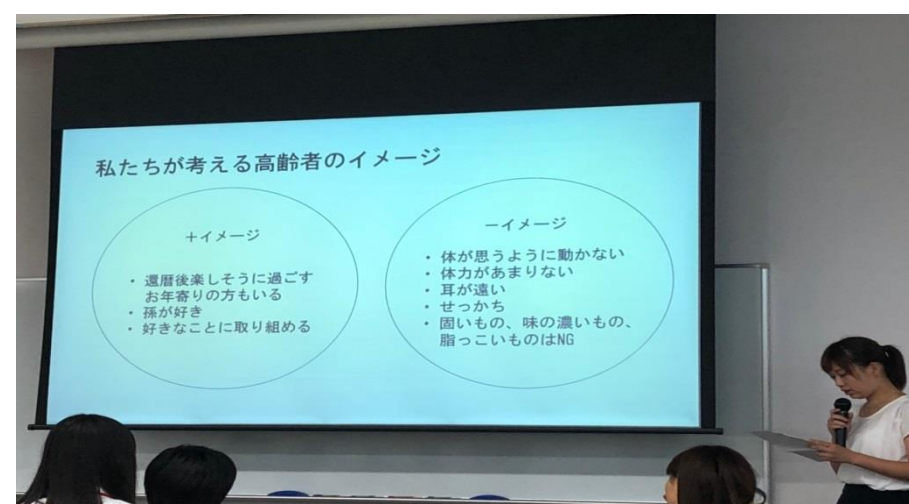

We went to Jissen Women's University and listened to presentations about Universal Tourism which the students actually planned in the class

<What we realized from their presentation>

We are often carelessly blocking possibilities of the handicapped and the elderly through our preconceptions

<New Goal>

Create a social trend to develop a society we can enjoy without preconceptions through universal tourism

<Example>

- The handicapped

There are nearly 80 types of licenses that people with mental handicaps cannot receive

A negative image of handicapped people

- The elderly

Senior citizens cannot use the movie service 4DX

They are weak and sick

It is not rational to put a limit on their abilities.

<what we can do>

Think of universal tourism from a young person's point of view!!

- Our culture will be felt to be new and fresh by the elderly and people with disabilities
- We can spend the boundless potential of the elderly and disabled through many types of SNS

<Our method>

Create courses which everyone can take part in

~Example~

- ① ★Contents : Courses where people who have had their heart broken can travel to shrines of marriage to wish for a new relationship
★Young person's point of view : Remind elderly people of their youth
- ② ★Contents: Courses where people who have difficulty communicating with others can travel around tourist sites and talk with others without phones to distract them
★Young person's point of view : visiting photogenic areas

Include Universal Tourism's point of view such as choosing roads which are wide and have few steps for these courses

<what is required for society>

Have a true understanding of all, even if they have diseases and handicaps

Why don't you start getting involved with them in everyday life, too?
