

#KuToo

-make our society more equal and comfortable-

What's #KuToo @rin_kajiyama

The world-wide movement against the company rules which force women to wear high heels .

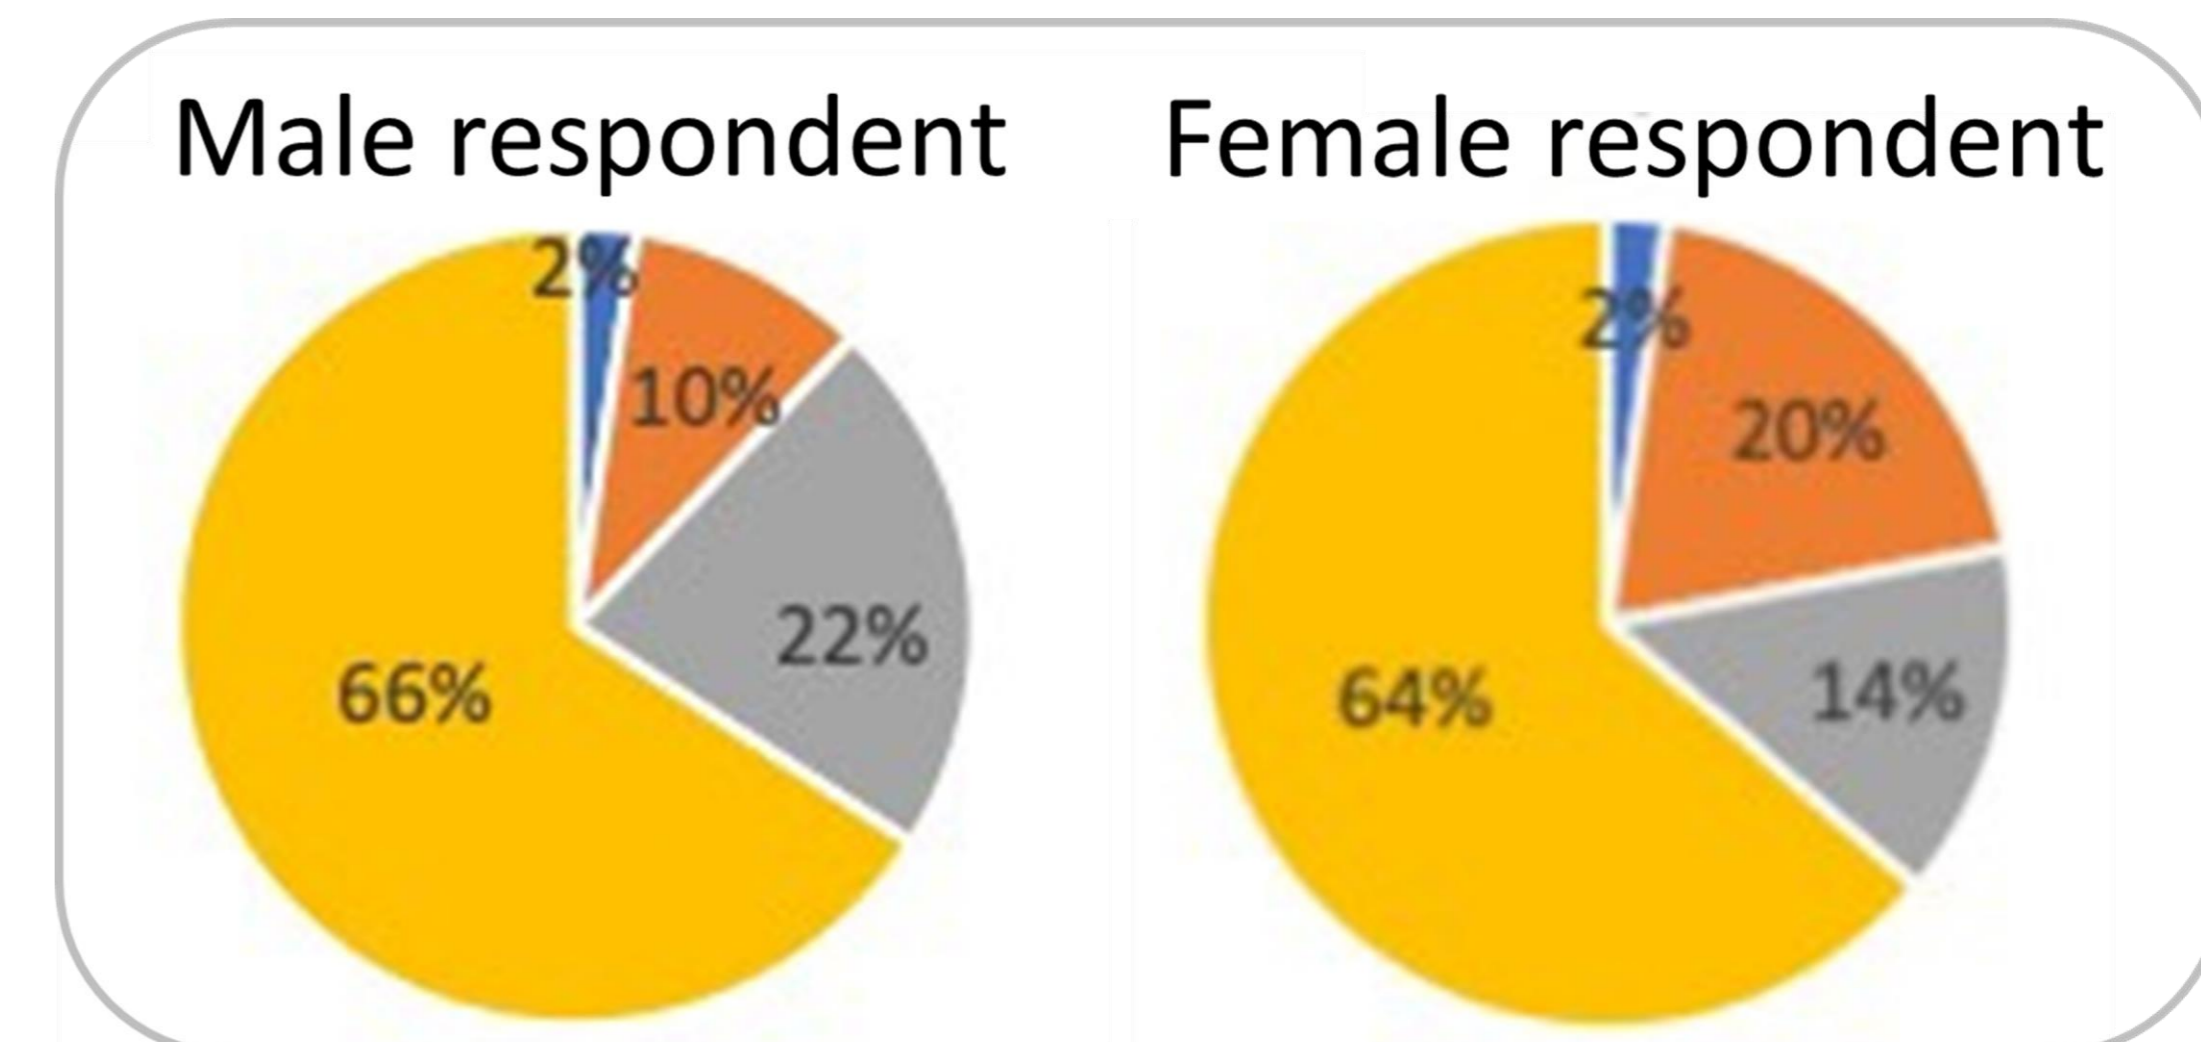

Experiment @mareju_suzuki

Subjects: 4 students from our school, including boys.
Result : By wearing high heels, we waste time and may harm our health. #KuToo

Questionnaire in Nagoya @manaki_kato

A total of 168 people responded to the questionnaire.
Question: Do you or women in your office wear high heels or pumps?"
Additional Question: "why do they wear high heels?"

YES

because it is company rule → blue

because they think it is good manners for them → brown

because women themselves want to do so → gray

NO → orange

#KuToo

Questionnaire for foreign friends in SGH projects @honami_nakamoto

In Japan, there is a custom that women wear high heels in their workplaces and they are sometimes forced to do so. We want to know about the experience overseas. Hope you guys answer them in the comment below!

- ① Do you have a similar situation in your country?
- ② Are there any unfair rules or tendencies concerning gender except those about shoes?

#KuToo

Philippines Government @philippines

Attention for companies!

We are going to prohibit forcing women to wear high heels. The pain of wearing them all day is beyond our imagination. #KuToo

Conclusion @rin_kajiyama

Speaking up is what we, high school students can do. We are spreading #KuToo movement with posters and social media.

We are going to be concerned not only shoes but also other gender problems to make our society equal and comfortable.

@1imagine.highschl

